Project Euphonia

Tired of your device not understanding your speech?

LSVT Global is partnering with Google to make speech recognition software more usable for people with speech disorders.

If your speech or voice are considered difficult to understand, you can assist us and get paid!

- You will record a set of provided phrases on your computer or mobile device from the comfort of your own home.
- An expert speech clinician will educate you on the process and assist you with the recordings.
- This can be completed in as little as two hours.

Now recruiting people from around the globe!
